

About Barbara Furry...

Barbara Furry, RN-BC, MS, CCRN, FAHA is locally and nationally recognized for quality healthcare education.

With thirty years of critical care nursing experience, Barbara shares her passion for education and advances in cardiac care and all areas of healthcare education. She holds a Masters of Science degree in Health and provides a wide variety of courses for the healthcare provider.

As Director of The Center of Excellence In Education, she has volunteered for the American Heart Association (AHA) since 1986 in many leadership roles and just completed serving the AHA National Education Subcommittee. Additionally she has served as AHA Past-Chair, Emergency Cardiovascular Care Committee and AHA Board Member. She is currently AHA ACLS/PALS/BLS Instructor and Regional Faculty.

Barbara's experience brings principles of relevant cardiac care using a low stress style and comfortable classroom atmosphere.

Provide your audience with the latest science and best practice information in low stress educational activities tailored to your organizational needs. Visit www.ceemed.net for a complete list of CEE courses taught by Barbara Furry.
